Presents

Νική 1963

To The Year of Pan 1963

Wheaton College

Norton, Massachusetts

Dedication

A nature in which goodness of character has been well and truly established.

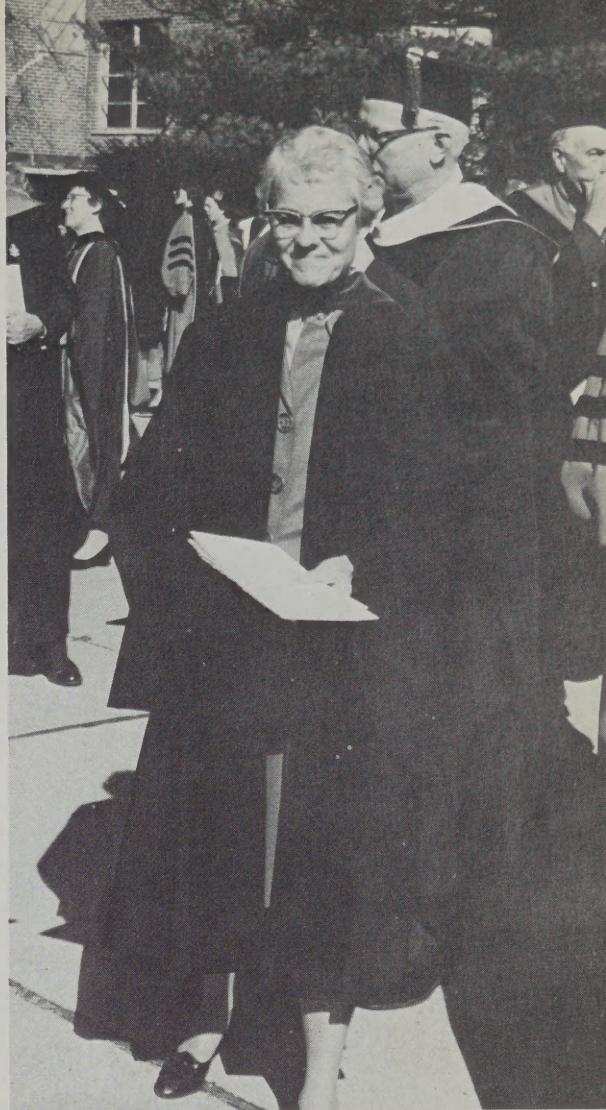

PLATO, THE REPUBLIC

The Class of 1963 takes pride in dedicating Nike to you, Miss Jane Louise Chidsey. You serve the school as an administrator, scholar, teacher, and friend. Your qualities of enthusiasm, patience, and interest in the individual are valued by all your students — from the struggling freshman with her dissecting kit and quadrat charts to the senior scholar engaged in individual research. We thank you for your services performed as Acting Dean of Wheaton in the college year 1961-1962, for your guidance and constructive criticism, and for your willingness to meet all problems with an open mind and warm, encouraging smile.

In deep appreciation, we extend to you our hope for your continued success and happiness.

The Class of 1963 salutes you!

"warm, encouraging smile"

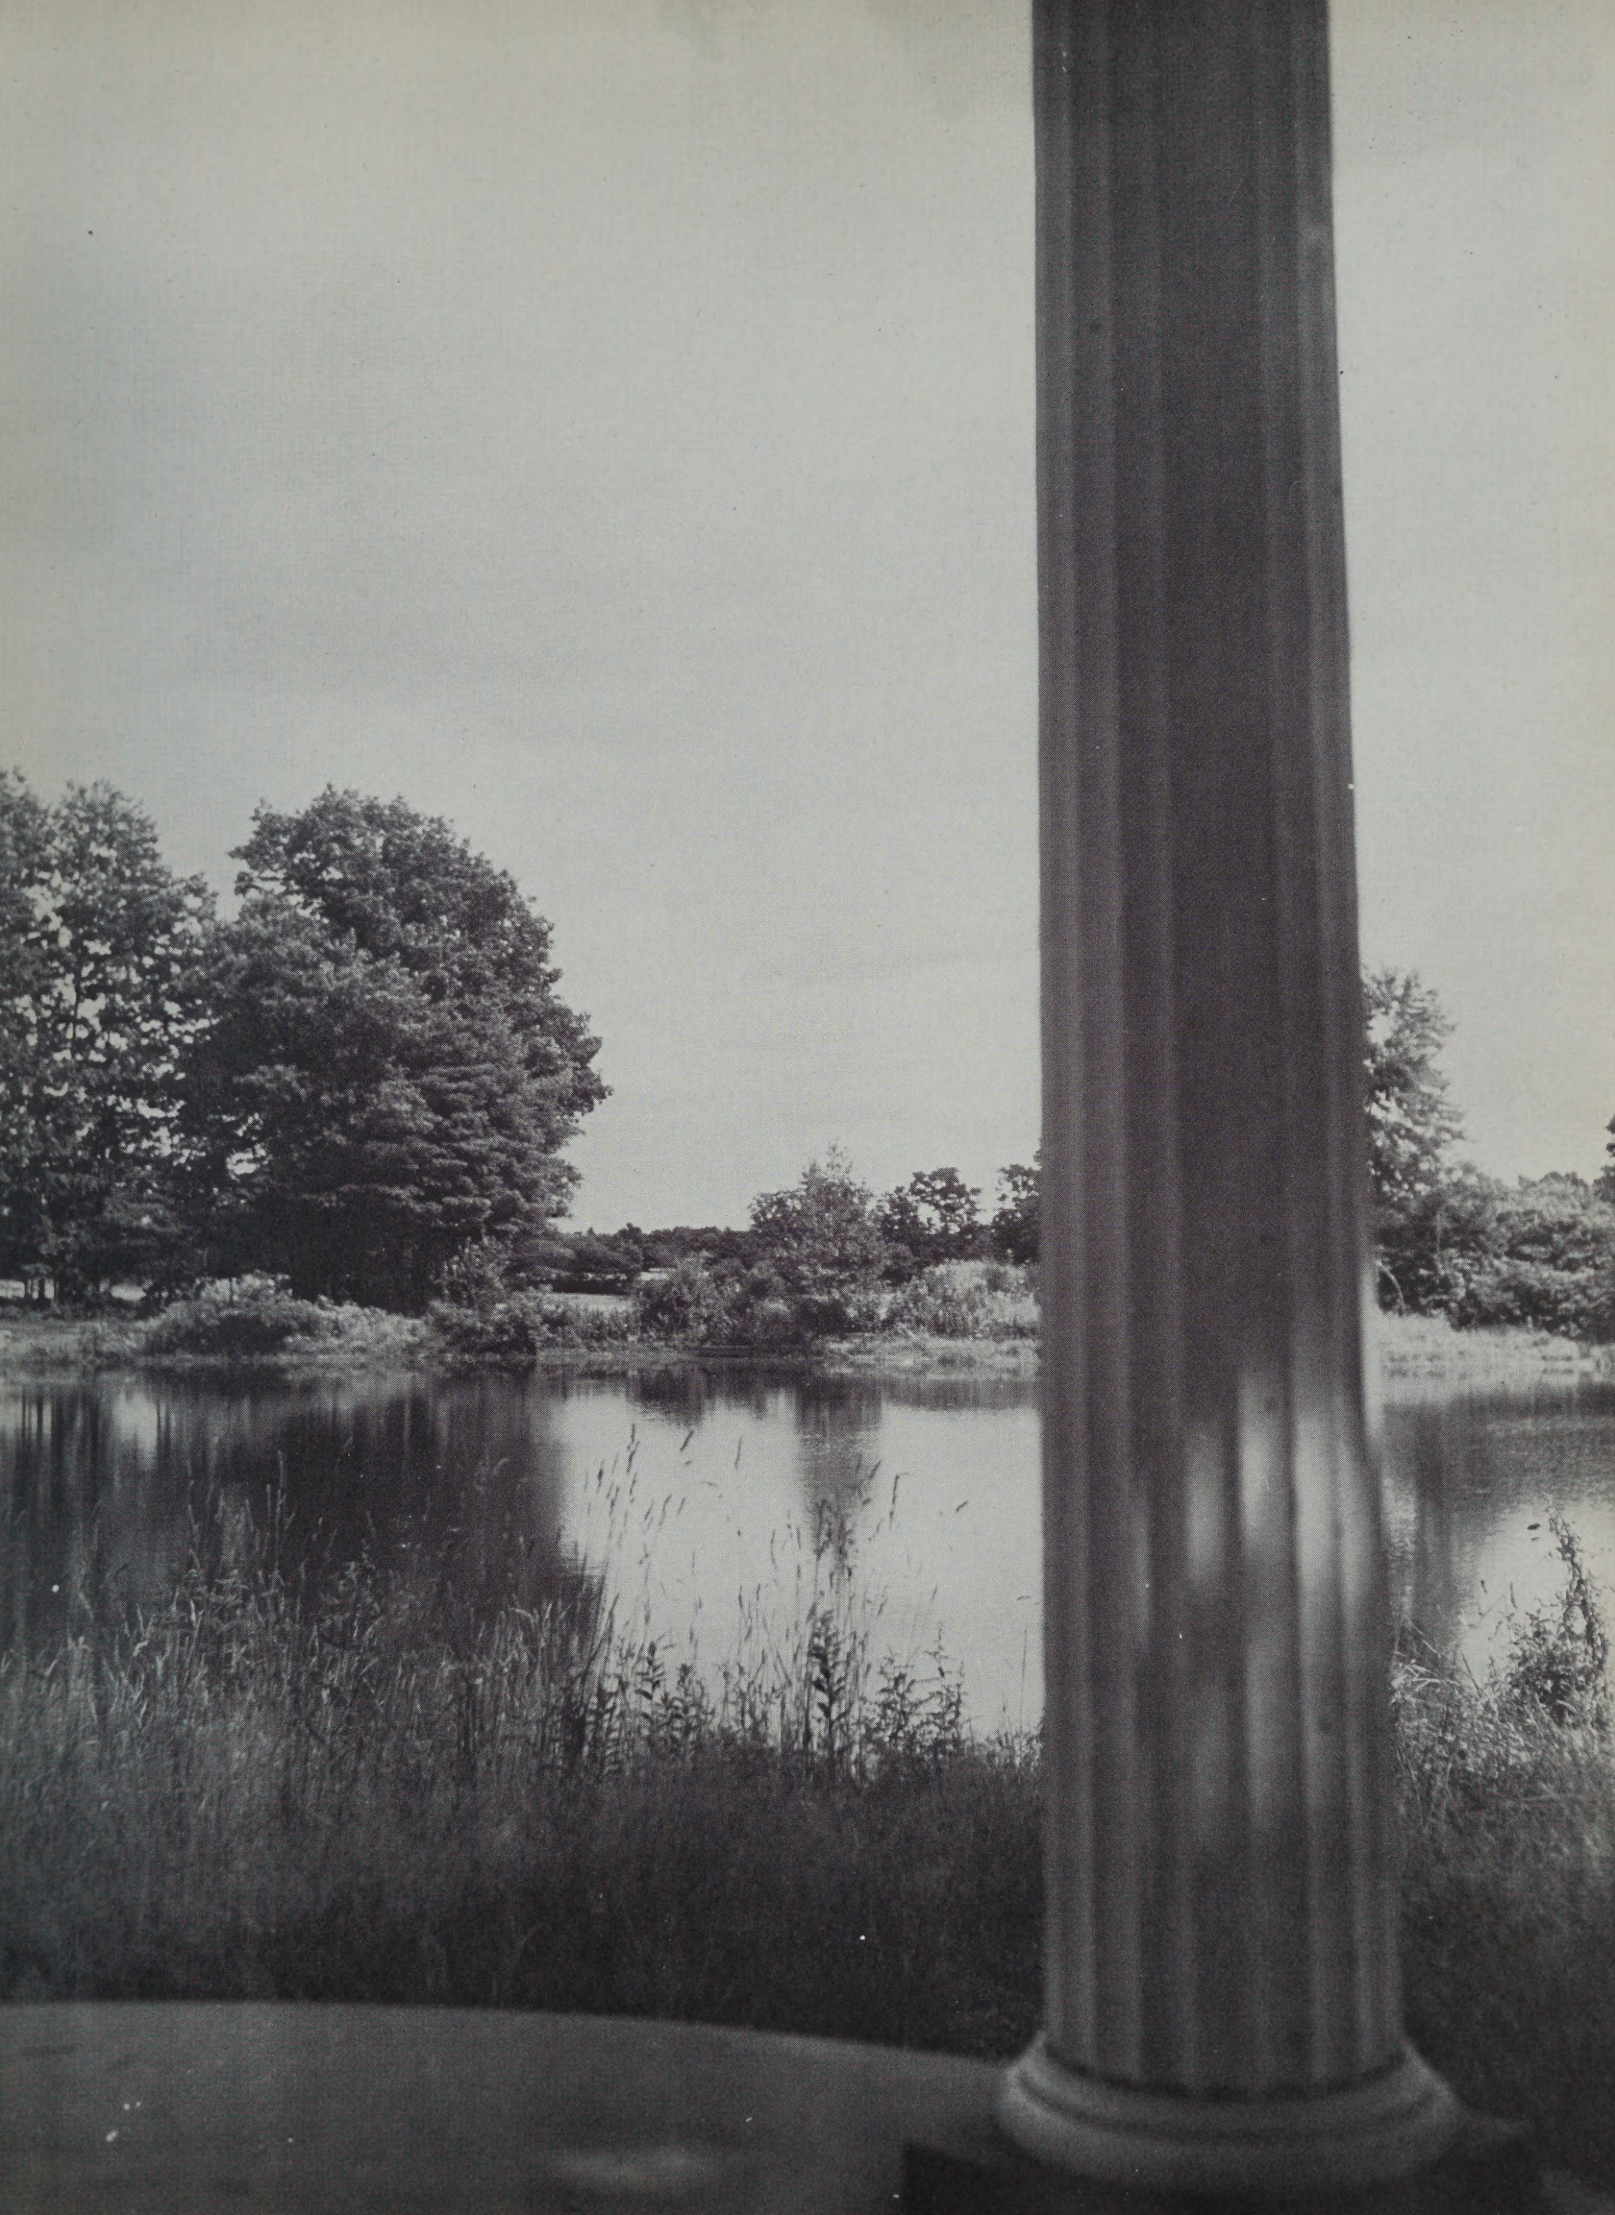

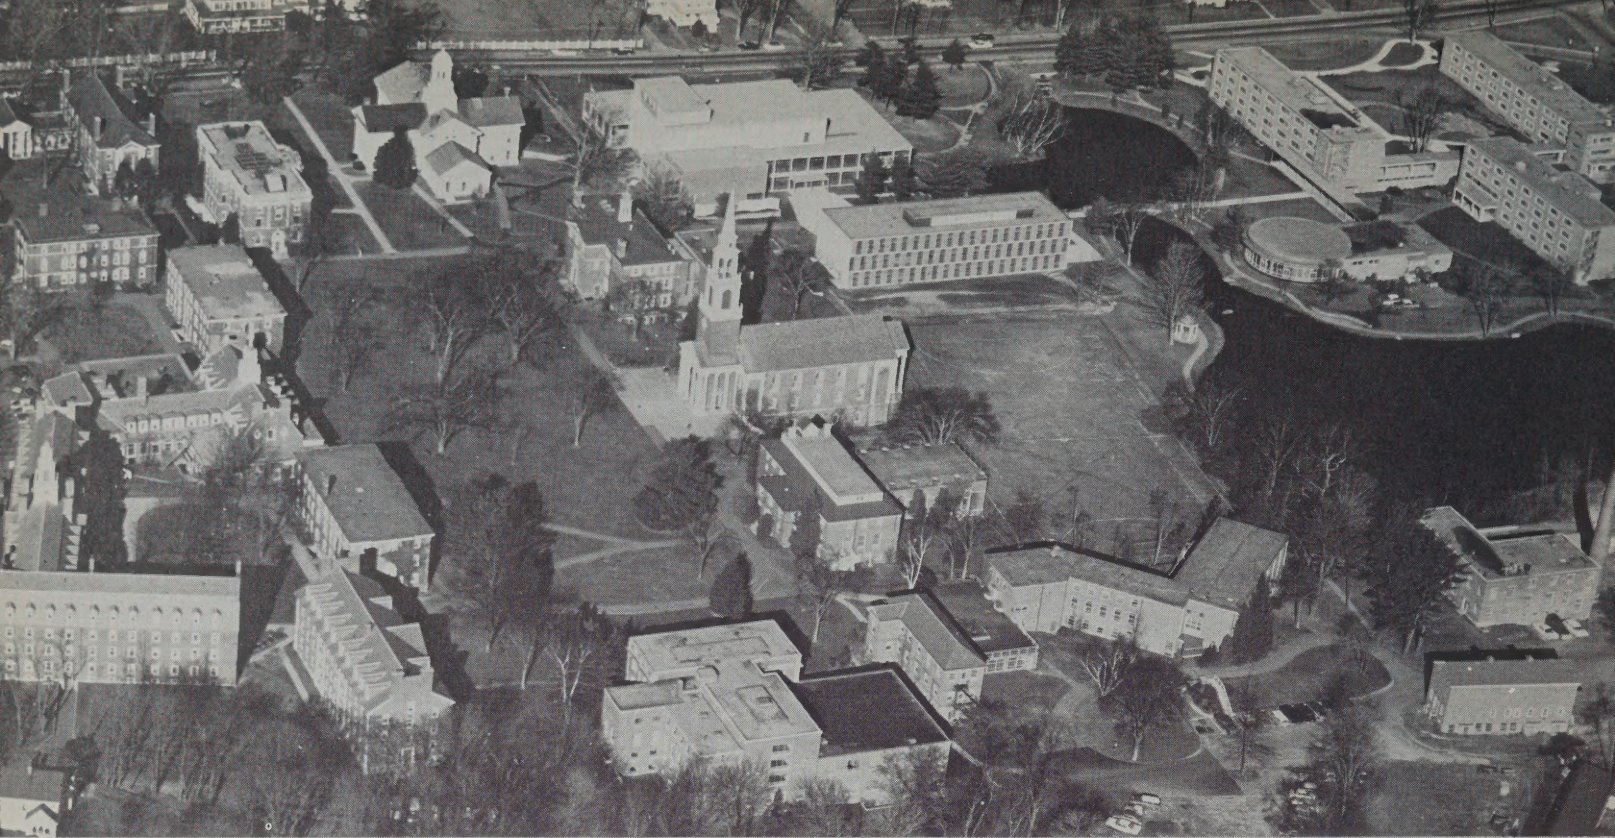

"guidance and constructive criticism"

Invocation

*Listen ye people who shape this age
To the sound of the trumpet,
To words of a sage;
To dicta so formed to sustain and to mould
The life of a nation,
Its shepherds and fold.
Of Greece and of Plato,
Oh hear this our praise
Of justice, integrity, warriors' proud days;
To Athens and Sparta,
A standard, a creed,
To Hector, Achilles, and heroes' brave deeds;
Of influence lasting through centuries past
In government, culture, and principles cast.*

*Oh you who building as they did before,
Forget not achievements and glories of yore;
From their foundations, build it anew
Re-using old stones,
Fashioning new.
Athene, thy wisdom instil in their minds,
Guidance, Apollo, from thy light let shine;
Grant them strength, Ares,
To endure time's cruel strife;
And, Nike, to victory
Bring them through life.*

ARISTOCRACY

*For now at last the hour has come
To leave tradition, forgetting none;
Yet each selecting those precepts
Which best can guide her future steps.
Go forth thy wisdom to increase
And we who stay behind, enriched,
To stir the waves or calm the sea,
In tribute give you Triton's horn;
So let us hear the echo ring,
"Class of '63!"*

Our friend the dog is a very good one.

"You can always tell a Harvard man—"

Who said Chivalry is dead?

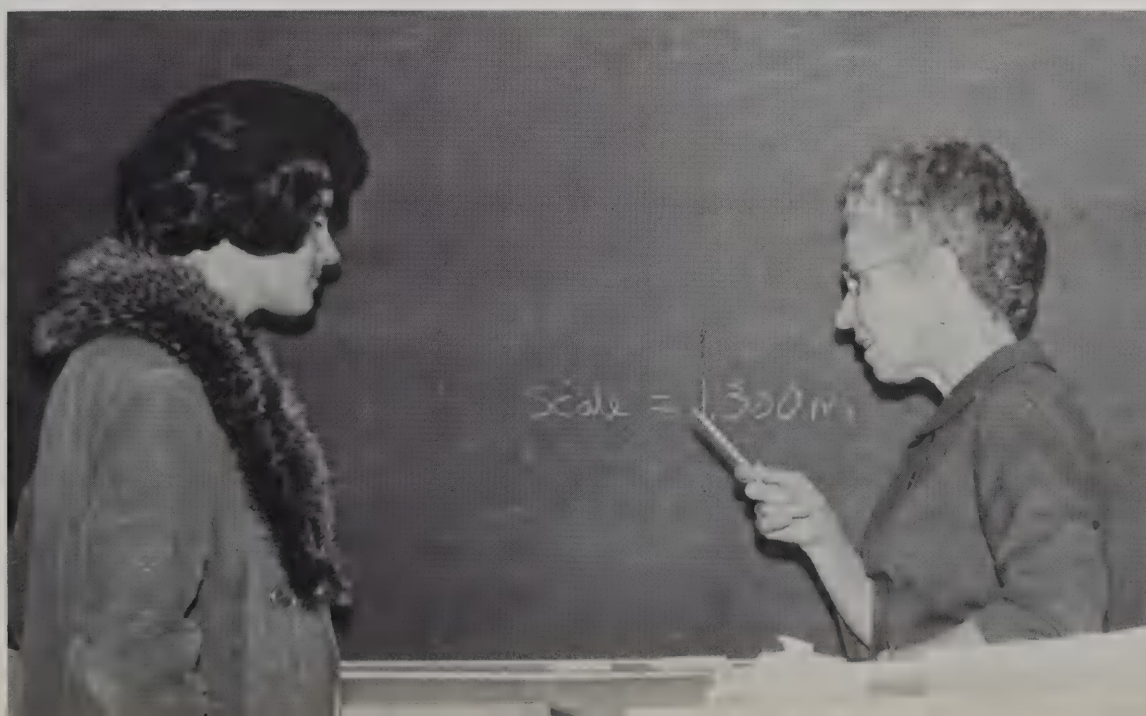

All the force I could muster.

Youth is the time for hard work of all sorts.

... it is easier to ask questions than to answer them.

POLITICAL STRUCTURE

*City-states loyal,
A senate of honor,
Guardians who justice employ,
Classes which strive
 To add strength to the whole,
On such do communities thrive.*

CLASSES

Citizens bound together by sharing in the same pleasures and pains.

THE SENIOR

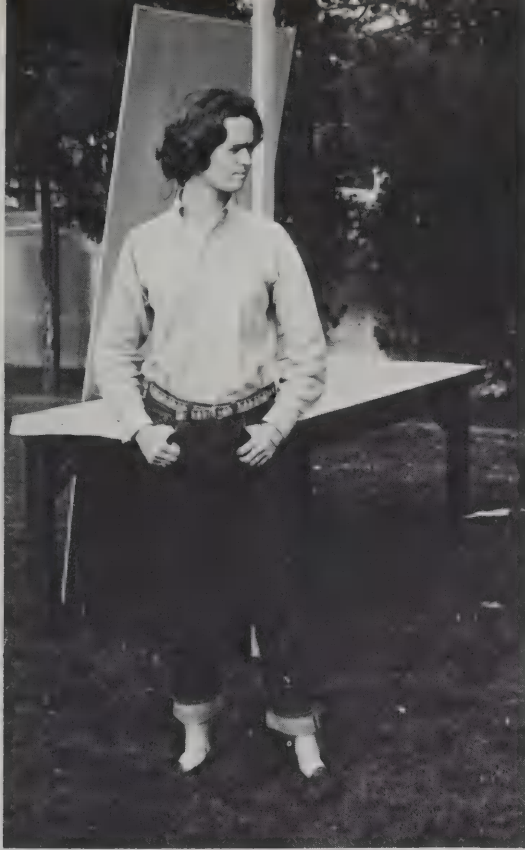

Tradition necessitates.

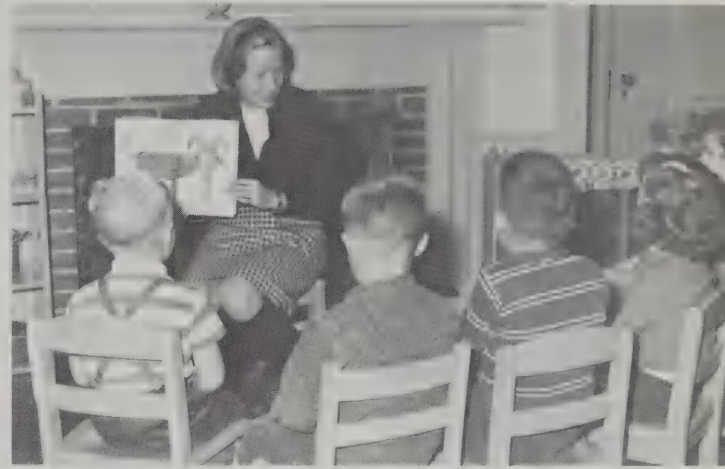

Wearing the ring.

The determined will succeed.

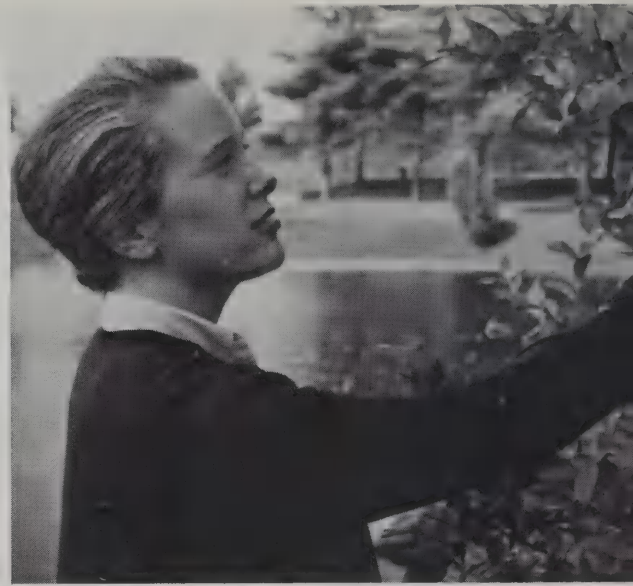

"Once upon a time . . ."

Which way to the wide, wide world?

A moment of merriment.

They're wearing them off the forehead this year.

"Follow the yellow brick road . . ."

The art of captivation.

THE JUNIOR

Susan Harris, Treasurer, Brooke Coors, President, Wendy Davis, Vice-President, Sally Unkles, Secretary.

Junior Jamboree.

Maybe we should have followed a recipe.

Junior Embarkation.

Pin-mates.

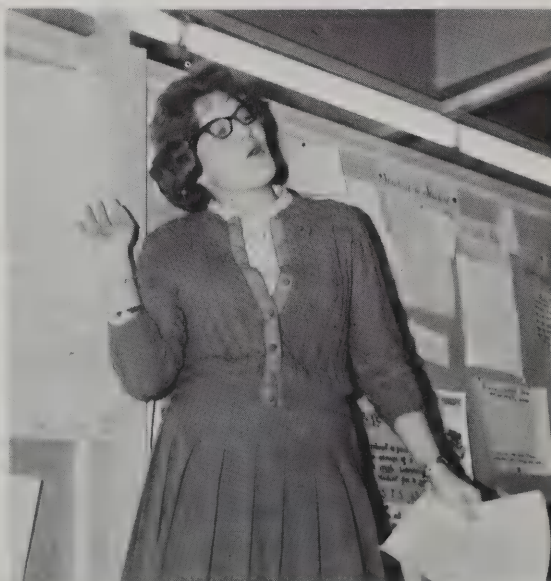

Motley minding his manners.

A topsy-turvy world.

Knead there be an explanation?

THE SOPHOMORE

Tani Clinchard, Treasurer, Cecily Bastedo, President, Pooh Faithful, Vice-president, Gail Miller, Secretary.

What the well-dressed Wheaton student will wear?

Sophomores awaiting their "sisters."

St. George slays the dragon.

Ten-gallon Tropp.

Off for the weekend!

THE FRESHMAN

If looks could kill . . .

Freshman initiation.

A noteworthy attempt.

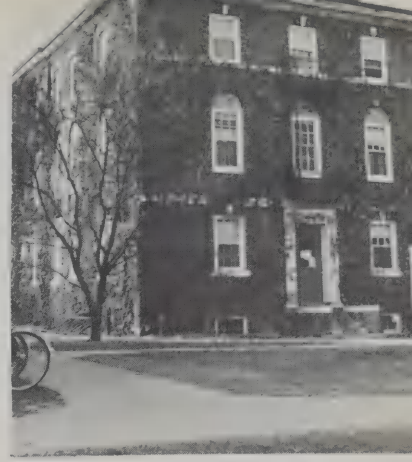

CITY STATES

They will have meals in common and all live together like soldiers in a camp.

Exodus

*The trumpet is hushed now,
The sage's voice stilled;
Alone stands fair youth with her dreams.
Bred in the past
To a future unknown
She ponders, deliberates, schemes.
With the knowledge and wisdom
Evolved through the years,
A fresh doctrine of life she will mould;
From both present and past
Will she choose and select
The ideals her new creed will unfold.
For her will the virtue of temperance endure,
And justice and courage stand firm;
And the pure light of wisdom which calls from afar
Like the heavens will brightly burn.*

"Now that you've mastered inhaling,
you're ready to learn how to exhale."

Music is instrumental to learning.

"Is this Wheaton's swimming pool?"

"We could always put them on the bed."

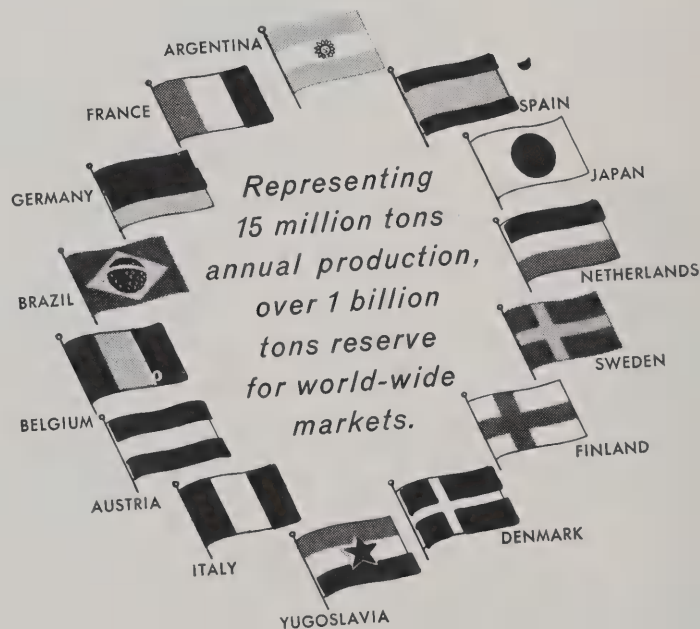

*The resemblance is very close,
and I have nothing to say for them.*
